

Ceng 241 Lab Work 2

Classes and Data Abstraction I: simple class implementation

Define a class named Movie. Include private fields for the title, year and the name of the director. Include three public functions that each set one of the three fields. Include another function that displays information about a movie. Write a main() function that declares a movie object named myFavoriteMovie. Set and display the object's fields.